Willy thanks the NWMO for the opportunity for Morley and himself to attend the ICGR-conference. They enjoy the conference and learned a lot of information. Conference webcast available online at icgr2012.org (<http://www.icgr2012.org/conference-proceedings.php>)

6.1. A. Update on NWMO action items

- a) The ICGR conference 2012 was a success.
- b) The NWMO is currently in the mist of the fall open houses in Learn More communities; Hornepayne is the first of the 3rd stage fall open houses'. Introduction of the technical staff to the Committee.
- c) The expression of interest was closed as of September 30,2012 therefore there are 21 communities in the Learn More Process, communities wishing to engage in the site selection process for Canada's Used Nuclear Fuel Repository and Centre of Expertise.
- d) The NWCLC will be attending the Darlington Nuclear Centre/Site, Nov 22, 2012. John Fraser will forward the project manager a detailed travel plan in the next two weeks. We are still awaiting the final word on whether Braeden Swereda will be able to attend.
- e) The Hornepayne NWCLC webpage is live.
- f) Aboriginal engagement – NWMO continues to communicate and reach out to First Nations in our area.

The Hornepayne CLC received a call from Mike McGee the Executive Director at Constance Lake First Nation. The Constance Lake First Nation would like an open house in their community. Ray Hatfield was unable to make contact with Mike this visit, but will report on future communication.

For information: Nish Career College in Cochrane could be an excellent resource as we move forward for training.

Ray reported on the September 25th Aboriginal engagement meeting that was planned to share information about the project with the Hornepayne First Nations. There was only one person in attendance besides the panel. For the next meeting we will invite all First Nation and Metis members in Hornepayne.

2. What's new in the community?

a. The NWCLC had a booth at the HEDC Fall Trade & Craft Show, it was very quiet, no negative feedback.

2b. CLC submitted a few community questions? The NWMO will include these in our questions in the feasibility study and report back to CLC with answers.

2c) CLC Newsletter was distributed to the community via a Canada Post Mail-out on September 29, 2012.

Committee discussed that in the future Newsletter will be edited & approved by Edith, Willy & Stacey to speed up the process.

2d) Willy & Morley spoke to this at beginning of meeting(6.0)
